

McKenney's Ranks among Atlanta's "Best Places to Work"

Atlanta, Georgia (September 25, 2009) – McKenney's, Inc., was named as one of Atlanta's "Best Places to Work" among midsize companies by the Atlanta Business Chronicle. McKenney's ranked no. 17, and this year was the second time the company made the list in the past four years.

The competition was stiff this year, as a record number of firms competed. Only the top 12 percent of companies made it to the top 25 for small, medium, and large businesses.

"Making it to the Best Places to Work list is a huge deal for McKenney's," said President and CEO John McKenney. "We try so hard to create a nurturing environment and a family feel within our company. It is very satisfying to know that our employees recognize and appreciate this effort."

Founded in 1948, McKenney's, Inc., is an Atlanta-based mechanical contracting firm with offices in Charlotte, North Carolina and Chattanooga, Tennessee. The company prides itself on designing, installing and servicing quality mechanical solutions for clients across the Southeast. For more information on McKenney's, visit www.mckenneys.com.
